

October Newsletter

We have been in school for over 30 days and wow, we have seen some changes! Students that have lost some skills over the summer have recouped them. First graders working on following multi-step directions and listening comprehension. Second Graders graders are becoming more aware of nouns, adjectives, verbs and writing about what they have read. It's amazing what can change in 30 days! I look forward to tracking progress throughout the school year to see how they have grown!

Here are some great links to games for practice at home!

THINGS TO REMEMBER

Parent conferences will be held at the end of the month.
Please make sure to remind teachers that you will need some time with me as well to discuss student progress.

Cold and Flu Season is here—if your child is not feeling well please keep them home.

Our weather is changing and so must our wardrobe! Please keep an eye on the weather so your child is always prepared for outside recess.

Let's have an awesome October! Contact me if you have any questions or concerns!
